

PRATT ON THE SLATE

Has Not Been Appointed Supervisor of Census.

FAVORED BY SUBORDINATE

LINDSAY ROGERS ROASTS STATE CHAIRMAN WALTON.

Latter Boasts That the Republican Committee Is Running the Appointing Business—Intimates That Walton Is a Fool—Senator Rawlins Did Not Endorse Pratt.

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Aug. 19.—The selection of Arthur Pratt of Salt Lake City to be census supervisor for Utah has been decided upon by Fred A. Winsor, assistant director of the census, in the absence of Director Merriam.

But this fact does not preclude the possibility of his defeat if those who oppose his nomination can reach the president with their protests. As a matter of fact, he is now in exactly the position that Greene occupied before he was abandoned by the Laramie combination. This is to say, he is slated by the assistant census superintendent for the place. There may, however, yet be a slip in Pratt's case. The statement which has been made that Patrick H. Langan never withdrew his endorsement of Greene is incorrect. It may be, and probably is true, that a paper endorsing Greene and signed by him is still on file at the census office department. But it is not a withdrawal of endorsement of Greene is incorrect. It may be, and probably is true, that a paper endorsing Greene and signed by him is still on file at the census office department. But it is not a withdrawal of endorsement of Greene is incorrect.

WALTON IS JUBILANT.

Says the State Committee Proposes to Run Things.

Wesley K. Walton, chairman of the Republican state committee, was jubilant when he heard the report of Pratt's selection yesterday. He treated it as an assured fact, although he admitted he had no information except that obtained from the papers.

"Of course, we have nothing official," he said, "but it is a matter of fact. He was fixed up at a meeting of the state committee held some time since. Mr. Pratt was endorsed by a majority of the committee."

"There must be a head to every organization," continued Mr. Walton, "and we have concluded that the committee should dispense the patronage for the state, and not outside individuals."

"I had no personal objection to Mr. Greene," he continued, "he's a good Republican, but he lives in an out-of-the-way little place, while the man who has given the matter thought knows that this office should be in Salt Lake, the center of population."

"I don't believe in giving offices to men who are continually after them; I believe in giving offices to men who are qualified to perform the duties assigned them."

Mr. Walton said that Mr. Pratt had received no official notification of his selection as yet, and he realized that he still had to run the gamut with Mr. Merriam, the president and the senate, but he thought all that could be arranged.

The meeting of the Republican committee referred to by Mr. Walton was held in this city Aug. 2 in the chairman's office, and was attended by Mr. Walton, Postmaster Thomas, Robert S. Campbell and Mr. Graham, the member of the committee from Provo.

ROGERS ROASTS GREENE.

Calls Him the "Serving Man of His Master."

Lindsay R. Rogers, the Republican national committee man for Utah, who championed the cause of Web Greene from the first, was asked last evening how Wesley K. Walton succeeded in knocking out Greene and securing the prize for Arthur Pratt.

"If Mr. Walton," he said, "claims or pretends for a moment that he is entitled to any credit for the turning down of Mr. Greene, or securing the appointment of Mr. Pratt, he is kidding himself an important, which he is not, and I don't believe will ever possess; and most certainly does not enjoy either in Utah or at Washington."

Here the reporter called Mr. Rogers' attention to Mr. Walton's statement "that the state committee was the proper dispenser of federal patronage," and "not outside parties."

"Ignorance of the Man." "Such a claim simply shows the ignorance of the man, who handicaps our party in this state by being the figure-head merely of the state committee, and a so-called executive committee. Mr. Walton has simply been put forward as the willing serving man of his master, and he must understand that so long as the member of the national committee from this state, I will discharge the duties of my office without any interference from him, or asking any of his invaluable counsel."

Who told him that he was a so-called executive committee "was the proper dispenser of federal patronage," where did he learn so much about politics? His attitude in politics became when he quit picking him up in Rich county, and secured a salaried position for himself on the state land board, and in leading the party since then twice to defeat, and in being a standing candidate (always covertly, of course), for any office from the national administration; Mr. Walton was himself a hidden candidate for the very office he is having honest Web Greene turned down for, and if he denies this, I agree to furnish the evidence thereof, which is in writing, and within my reach.

Ought to Know Better.

"Mr. Walton knows, or ought to know, that the state committee, and by state committee I mean that committee which was elected at the last state convention, and not his little so-called executive committee, would not turn down and humiliate Webster Greene or any other good Republican, as he boasts of having done. If he does not believe this assertion, let him fairly call a meeting of the state committee to vote on the proposition."

Mr. Rogers said he most certainly would not object to any object to Mr. Pratt's appointment. "Arthur Pratt," he said, "is a sterling Republican, and will most certainly perform the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the people of the state and with credit to himself."

NOT ENDORSED BY RAWLINS.

Senator Rawlins would like to have it understood that he has taken no part in a Republican family quarrel. He endorsed neither Greene nor Pratt; he opposed neither. He notified the department that he would oppose the confirmation of neither, should it come before the senate. He will take no part, he says, in the distribution of spoils, and he will oppose the confirmation of no man unless he is satisfied that he is totally unfit for the position.

OFFICERS MAY RETURN

Lieutenants Hines and Webb Willing to Go Back.

COMMISSIONS FOR TWO

WEBB HAS ALREADY RECEIVED AN APPOINTMENT.

Lieutenant Anderson Might Be Willing to Return Under Certain Conditions—Lieutenant Naylor Is Undecided—Criticlow Quite Certain He Would Not Return.

(Special to The Herald.)

In view of the fact that Governor Wells has two commissions in the regular army at his disposal, which he will probably award to the batteries, The Herald yesterday interviewed the returned officers, asking each one the question: "Do you want to go back to the Philippines?" The question was put in this form because the newly organized regiments are being dispatched to Manila as rapidly as possible.

Lieutenants Hines and Webb were the only officers who had no hesitation in saying they would be glad to go back. The rest said they had made up their minds to stay here, and all of the Philippines they cared to see. "My business demands my attention here," said Major Grant. "I have done all the soldiering I intend to do. I am glad to get back and am going to stay here."

Captain Wedgwood was equally outspoken. "I have neglected my private business as long as I can afford to," said he. "It is time I settled down and took care of it. I certainly don't want to go back to the Philippines."

"I wouldn't go back there if they'd give me a brigadier general's commission," said Captain Critchlow. "I'm a physician and I want to practice my profession."

Captain Critchlow laughed and added that he intended to beat his sword up into scalpels right away. "I have reached an age now when I want to settle down," said Lieutenant Gibbs. "I wouldn't go back to the Philippines under any circumstances."

"I'm not prepared to say just yet whether I would go back or not," said Lieutenant Naylor. "I haven't had a chance to make up my mind on the subject."

"If I can go back with a commission in the regular army," said Lieutenant Hines, "I would be glad to go. I would like to have such a commission."

"I expect to go back," was Lieutenant Webb's statement. "I have been appointed to a Lieutenant in the regular army and the war department has notified me that I can take my examination at any time within six months."

"I don't believe in giving offices to men who are continually after them; I believe in giving offices to men who are qualified to perform the duties assigned them."

Mr. Walton said that Mr. Pratt had received no official notification of his selection as yet, and he realized that he still had to run the gamut with Mr. Merriam, the president and the senate, but he thought all that could be arranged.

The meeting of the Republican committee referred to by Mr. Walton was held in this city Aug. 2 in the chairman's office, and was attended by Mr. Walton, Postmaster Thomas, Robert S. Campbell and Mr. Graham, the member of the committee from Provo.

TO PRODUCE "MADELINE."

Local Amateur Company Arranging For the Opera.

John D. Spencer, who left for New York the other day on insurance business, will devote some attention to opera matters for the local amateur company before his return. He took with him the manuscript prompt book of "Madeline," of the Magic Kiss, which was brought out by Camille D'Arville, and while in New York Mr. Spencer will call on her stage manager with a view of getting all the ideas possible regarding costumes and stage business.

The local company expect to bring out "Madeline" early in October. They will, in fact, rush their preparations as quite a number of their chorus will be absorbed by the tabernacle choir eastern excursion.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. D. G. Dunmore left for the east last evening.

Leslie Wallace has returned from a week's outing at Hibble Creek.

Representative J. H. Fullmer of Plate county is in the city to greet the returned volunteers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shepherd left for the east on an outing at the Guyer Hot Springs, Ida.

Elder Evan R. Owen of Wellsville, Cache county, returns this morning after an absence of almost three years on an European mission.

C. D. W. Fullmer of Logan is in the city for the first time in three years, and voluminous whiskers came down on the same train.

Mrs. A. P. Pickens, mother of Mrs. B. F. Robinson, is lying dangerously ill at the Redmon residence, 74 East Second South street.

Harry Knapton, a member of the staff of Governor Steiensen of Idaho, heads a large delegation of Pocatello citizens who came down to the celebration. Colonel Knapton bore a letter of introduction from Governor Steiensen.

Alma O. Taylor, the 17-year-old son of Joseph E. Taylor, has completed the course in the College of Idaho, and returned yesterday with his diploma. His record for the year was 98 per cent, he averaged 90 per cent, and was one of the top students who attained that high standard.

WALTHALL'S REMAINS.—The remains of M. D. Walthall, the young man who died in jail a few days ago, will be accompanied by his mother to Middleton, N. Y. for burial tonight.

KEPT THE DUST DOWN.—The sprinkling department of the city under J. C. Lambert was out on the line of march in full force at 6 yesterday morning, and did such a good job that no one suffered from dust in the city all day. The wagons were all nicely decorated through the courtesy of Councilman Barnes.

BLEW UP THE ANVIL.—Shoemaker O. W. Baker was a victim yesterday. He fired anvil on the corner of Second South and State, until one came in two, the smallest and "not cutting much," which Mr. Pratt's appointment. "Arthur Pratt," he said, "is a sterling Republican, and will most certainly perform the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the people of the state and with credit to himself."

Utah Commercial and Savings Bank. General banking business; interest paid on savings deposits. F. Armstrong, president; J. E. Caine, cashier; 24 East First South street.

Utah Coal. Castle Gate and Winter Quarters lump, nut and slack; anthracite, all sizes. D. J. SHARP, AGT. 78 South Main, Telephone No. 429.

Dr. E. M. Keyser's method of filling teeth is painless. 162 Main street, Auerbach building.

Concert in the Bowers, LAGOON, Sunday afternoon, 2:30 and 6:30. Olsen's orchestra of eleven pieces.

Music-lovers will all be at Lagoon today to hear Olsen's orchestra in a select programme of high-class music; 2:30 and 6:30.

BUY PAY FOR POLICE

Difficulty Experienced in Handling the Immense Throng.

THE SMALL BOY A TERROR

COULD NOT CONTROL PATRIOTISM AND ENTHUSIASM.

Crowd Was Good Natured One, But Flairish of An Officer's Club Could Not Suppress Disorderly Demonstration or the wish to pay Tribute to Returned Heroes.

(Special to The Herald.)

It was a busy day for the three score special police and the twenty-five regulars whose trying duty it was to "handle the crowd." The thousands of enthusiasts who were constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

As early as 9 o'clock crowds thronged the Short Line depot, and by the time the whistles signaled the departure of the batteries from Ogden, the railroad yards were black. Now and then a enthusiast who was constantly being penned in or beaten back, among them the irrepressible small boy, who usually slipped under the patrolman's club, or climbed a pole to escape chastisement, earnestly threatened the truly deserved, made it a time, indeed, that tried men's souls.

Police Charge the Throng.

Chief Hilton, with a squad of ten enlisted men, arrived at the depot about 11 o'clock, and undertook to clear the yards, in order to make room along the tracks for the organization.

The train pulled in, and then began a conflict of police against citizens. The line was held with the utmost difficulty, and when some determined celebrator squirmed in the crowd, the police were about 1,500 people in the space that must be cleared, and after many unavailing commands to "get out," the police literally charged the throng, and a long time before the eager crowd realized that the officers were in earnest, but after a half hour's exertion the place was clear, and ropes were stretched across the street on the west side, and guards stationed at every entrance.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

Police Against Citizens.

The train pulled in, and then began a conflict of police against citizens. The line was held with the utmost difficulty, and when some determined celebrator squirmed in the crowd, the police were about 1,500 people in the space that must be cleared, and after many unavailing commands to "get out," the police literally charged the throng, and a long time before the eager crowd realized that the officers were in earnest, but after a half hour's exertion the place was clear, and ropes were stretched across the street on the west side, and guards stationed at every entrance.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

It finally was necessary for the chief and his mounts to sweep into the crowd, followed by all the specials with heavy canes, who, by lining each side, managed thereafter to preserve the opening.

This but added to the confusion outside, where thirty of forty special police were trying to open a passage to South Temple street, a distance of less than 100 yards. Uncle Tom Dobson, mounted on a fine black horse, and working like a beaver, but the other specials at this point being afoot, no lasting impression was made on the excited masses of humanity.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT.

FIRST REGIMENT BAND, SALT LAKE, SUNDAY, AUG. 20.

1. March, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

2. Overture, "Jolly Fellows".....Suppe
3. Flower Song, "Heart and Flower".....Moser
4. American Fantasia on Stephen Foster's Popular Songs.....Glinka
5. Dance, "Russian".....Glinka
6. Characteristic, "Trueter of Guard".....Neske
7. Descriptive, "Cavalry Charge".....Luders

Synopsis.—Morning of the battle; infantry is heard approaching, with files and drums, cavalry in the distance, coming nearer until the charge upon the enemy; cavalry, infantry and artillery in the midst of battle; defeat of the enemy, pursued in the distance by the cavalry.

March, "Hot Time".....Metz
3. Fantasia, "Hungarian".....Moses
10. Idyll, "Longing for Home".....Jungman

11. Overture on National Airs of America.....Moses
12. Selection, "The Serenade".....Herbert
13. Negro Sketch, "Possum and the Cat".....Hilbert
14. Descriptive, "Battle of Manila".....Holst

Synopsis.—Bugle call; Dewey approaching the city tomorrow morning; battle; Dewey opens fire on the Spanish fleet; cannon shot bombardment of Manila; shells flying; cannon; the Spanish fleet destroyed; groans of the wounded; "Star Spangled Banner"; Dewey victorious; march triumphant; the American flag waves over Manila; "Yankee Doodle."

Concert in the Bowers, LAGOON, Sunday afternoon, 2:30 and 6:30. Olsen's orchestra of eleven pieces.

Held's military band, afternoon and evening, Calder's park today. Admission free. Fare for the round trip 19 cents.

Burial of T. B. Sullivan.

The body of the late T. B. Sullivan, who died at Eureka yesterday, will be brought to this city tomorrow morning. The funeral will take place from O'Donnell's undertaking parlors at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

BORN.

BROOKS.—In this city, Saturday, Aug. 19, to the wife of O. T. Brooks, a fine boy.

DIED.

DILLON.—In this city, Aug. 19, 1899, Thomas Joseph Dillon, aged 10 months and 7 days.

Funeral at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, 308 Sixth street, Interment, Calvary cemetery. Friends respectfully invited.

WANTED.

A YOUNG LADY of good family, good education, and experience in caring for the sick wishes a position as lady's companion. Address J. Q. R. care Herald.

UTAH CLEANERS and dyers. First-class work promptly done. 142 East First South.

WE HAVE $1,000 to pay household goods. Highest price paid. Utah Second-hand store, 24 East Second South.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, stoves; high-grade prices paid. Second-hand store, 24 East Second South.

TO BUSINESS MEN everywhere: Send your bad debts to Utah Collection agency, rooms 7 and 19, Eagle block.

WILL PAY highest price for cast-off clothing. Call at address 24 East First So.

BONES by car lot. Utah Junk company, 65 East Eighth South, Salt Lake.

The Utah Junk Company. HIGHEST PRICE paid for copper, brass, rubber, bottles, scrap iron, rags; car lots a specialty. 65 East Eighth South, Salt Lake.

WANTED-HELP.

FIRST-CLASS MANTEL and tile setter. Elias Morris & Sons Co.

25 RAILROAD laborers, $2 per day, for Wyoming & Utah. The Herketh Employment agency, 161 Main street.

THREE YOUNG LADIES, highly educated, neat appearance, to travel. Address Box 25.

A VACANCY exists for a young man of clerical ability, experienced in caring for the sick, to be returned. Apply in own handwriting. P. O. box 191, City.

AGENTS wanted to sell the Triumph Buggy alarm; it is not the best in the market. Send for catalogue, and send 50 cents for sample, which will be returned to you free with first order. Address The Triumph Co., Cincinnati, O.

TODAY, eight teen men, $2 per day; also tonight, free transportation; also two bricklayers, $2 per day, for building a basement. Call between 8:30 and 11 o'clock.

FIVE experienced hands wanted at once; also an apprentice. Partisan Dressmaking factory, over Deseret National bank.

CASH for acceptable ideas. State if patented. The Patent Record, Baltimore, Md.

AUCTION SALES.

On Tuesday, Aug. 22, at 429 Main street, will be sold eight rooms of elegant furniture, including a fine dining room, piano, carpets, stoves, and washing machine, one coal stove, five heating stoves, and a number of other articles, and dining table, lots of dishes and granite ware. Sale at 10 o'clock sharp. Lots of other goods to be sold. W. D. Cline will conduct sale.

LUMBER DEALER.

PARKER LUMBER CO. wholesale dealer in lumber, shingles, mouldings, Building and Roofing Papers, Mill Work; estimates given. Send for our prices and catalogue. Salt Lake City, Utah.

MUSICAL.

ORSON PRATT, Piano and Harmony, Studio, 222 Sixth East street.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

NOTICE. Investors and speculators.—Can you guess? Good guesses can make money. We are giving away, free of charge, one of the most interesting topics of the day. The best guesses can trade in the Salt Lake Business Exchange, 4000 bushes of wheat on the Chicago board of trade, or 100 bushels of cotton on the New York cotton exchange, and we will furnish the money; it costs you nothing. We also manage "The Investor's Fund," which pays profits twice a month to subscribers. Write for full particulars and conditions. Sent free. C. E. Mackay & Co., Bankers, 29 Broadway, New York.

EDUCATIONAL.

Salt Lake Business College, 72 West Second South street, Salt Lake City. The leading commercial school. Fall term opens Sept. 5, 1899. Young people of both sexes thoroughly prepared for good paying positions. Remember that the famous Ellis Cabinet system of